THE ULTIME WESTERN

THE COSTUMES: HOW TO FIT THE WILD WEST

Nothing will replace your participation in the adventure. No photo, no film can give you the feeling of what you will experience once there. At the most, you can get a little closer.

25 hectares of old west town and pueblo, outstanding scenery and landscape...200 hectares of wilderness in a desert of more than 1000km².

Tens of kilometers of tracks to explore.

Saloons, buildings decorated like in a movie, stuntmen, horses, wagons and stagecoaches.

While waiting to discover your role, here are a couple examples of characters played and in costume that you might cross... or be.

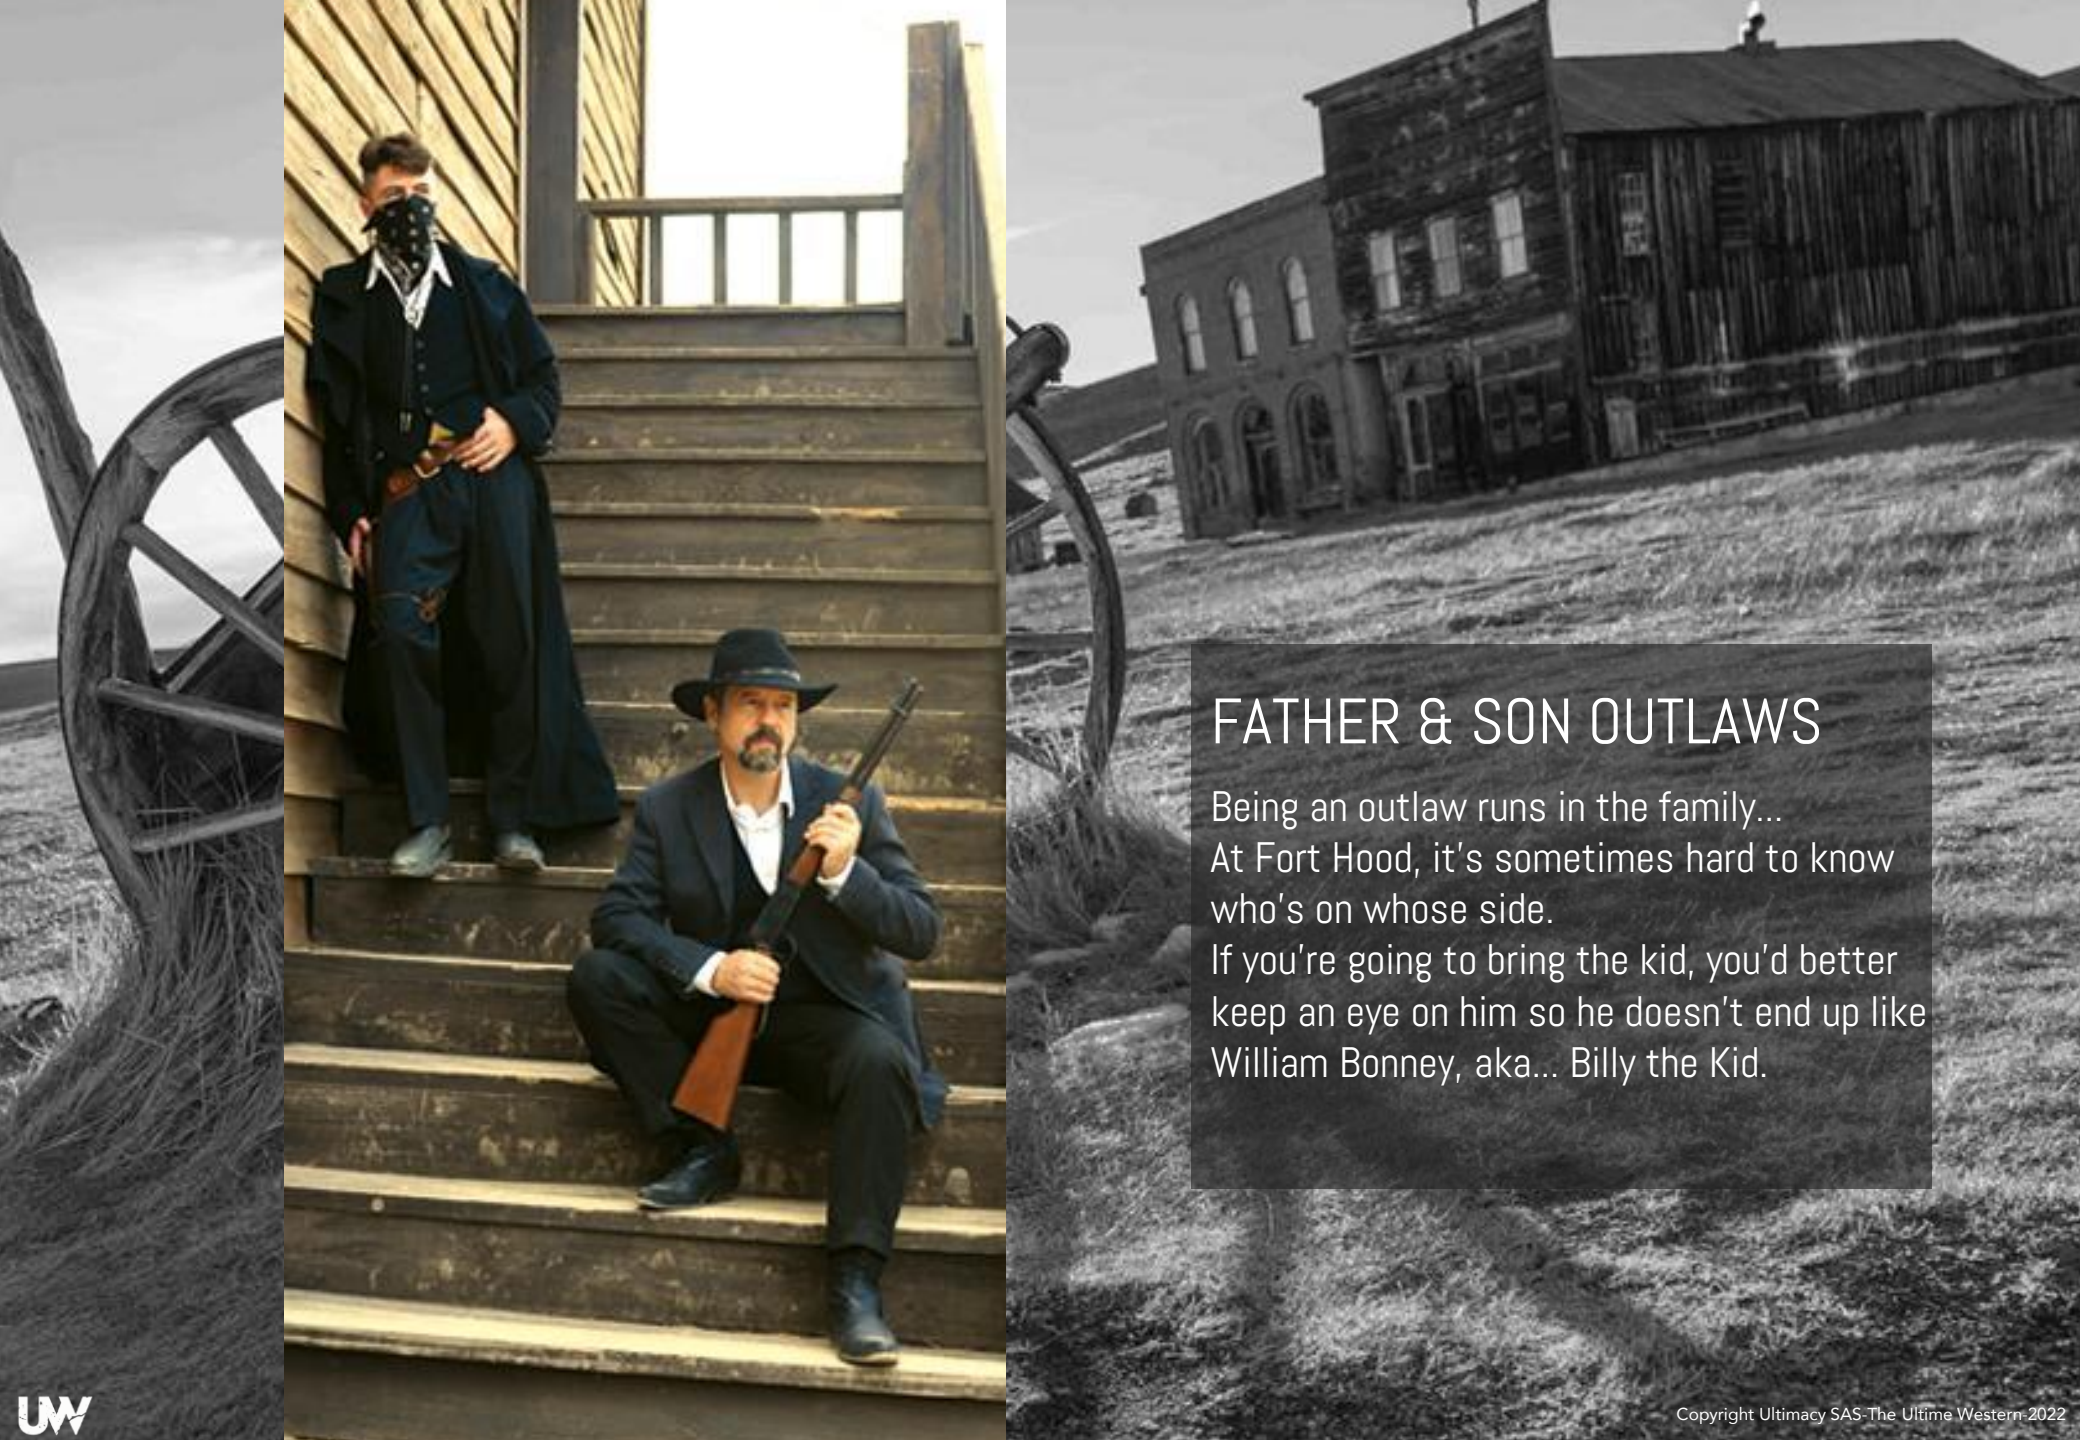

MARSHALL

He is the one who settles things.
The man with the badge, the dark hat
and the determined look.
He is the Law when the Law is not enough...

FATHER & SON OUTLAWS

Being an outlaw runs in the family...
At Fort Hood, it's sometimes hard to know who's on whose side.
If you're going to bring the kid, you'd better keep an eye on him so he doesn't end up like William Bonney, aka... Billy the Kid.

OUTLAW AMBUSH

Do you recognize this arch? Yes, of course.

They once played harmonica there...

A bad guy might be waiting for you there.

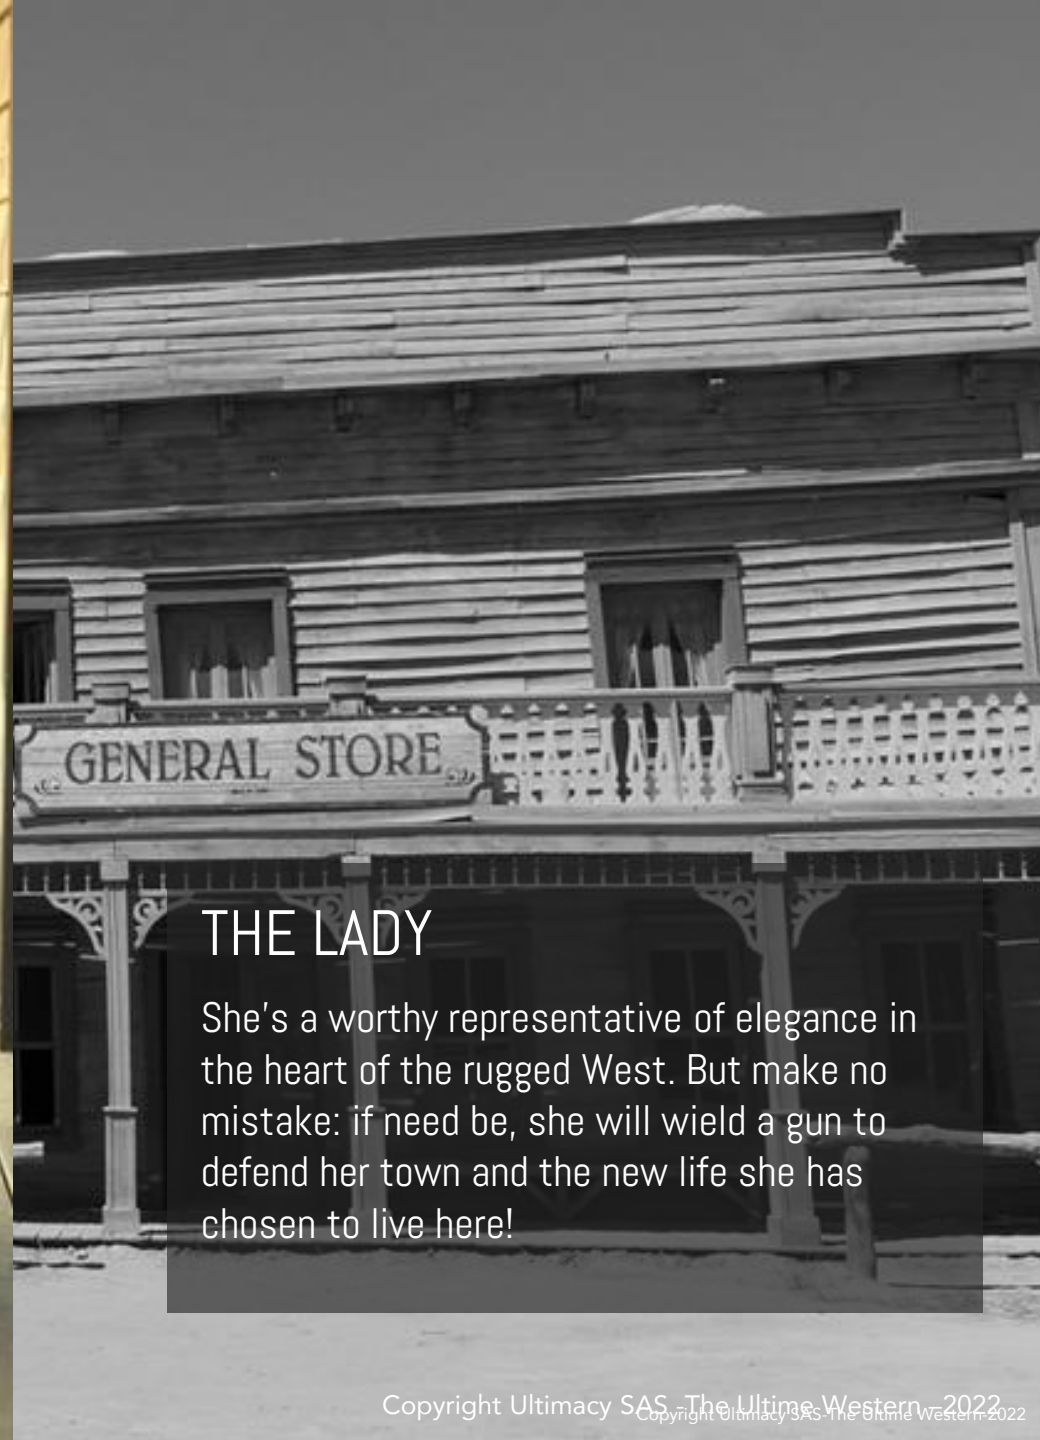

CALAMITY

Everyone loves Calamity. Mythical character of the West, woman with a hectic life and an easy descent. Ripped off style and hand never far from her colt. Is it you?

THE MEN IN BLUE

They are the guardians of the fort that watches over the town of LaHood. Its residents know that they owe a great deal to the Cavalry Regiment for keeping the peace in the area... at least until now!

THE LADY

She's a worthy representative of elegance in the heart of the rugged West. But make no mistake: if need be, she will wield a gun to defend her town and the new life she has chosen to live here!

THE OUTLAW

This guy won't hesitate if he feels threatened or cornered. At Fort Hood, where the hope of a better life meets the danger of life in the West, outlaws will do anything to make their fortune.

THE LAW

He's the law. You don't need a holster to solve problems in the city. The intimidating barrel of a shotgun will do the trick, and you'll probably end up behind bars for a while... if not the rope.

THE COWBOY

He lives in the great outdoors, is not afraid of the desert dust and knows how to observe what is happening on the horizon from his ranch porch.

He is the symbol of the West, always looking for opportunities... and sometimes on the wrong side of the law.
